BRITAIN MASSES TROOPS ON INDIAN FRONTIER TO RESIST ATTACKS OF AFRIDI TRIBESMEN Gangster's Safety Box Reveals Racket Secrets

ZUTA'S RECORDS DISCLOSE LIAISON WITH HIGHER-UPS

Pay Roll Shows Names of "Reformers" and a Sergeant in Chicago Police Department.

PROMISSORY NOTES BY HIGH OFFICIALS

Papers May Throw Light on Lingle Slaying and Expose Hook-Up of Gangland Barons.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—The Chicago Tribune Saturday will say that the contents of Jack Zuta's safety deposit boxes reveal a complete record of his financial dealings, including bribes to high officials, notes signed by men in high public office and agreements on the division of gang profits.

The Tribune claims to have learned that among those on Zuta's pay roll was a police sergeant who had been employed by a reformer and an attorney who engaged in public activities as a reformer.

In addition to gang records, the pasteboard box contained 21 gold pieces of the $2.50 denomination, two $5 gold pieces and several loose diamonds.

Another link between the safety boxes and the Lingle inquiry was seen in the fact that assisting Roche in examination of the contents of the vault was Charles F. Rothman, the Chicago Tribune attorney who is devoting all of his time to the Lingle case.

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—Underworld secrets that gunmen sought to seal in Jack Zuta's gang were forced by authorities today after seizing open two safety deposit boxes used by the slain gang leader.

It was rumored that the boxes contained sensational records of Zuta's dealings in the liquor and gambling industries and that they implicated several political leaders and officials in the payment of graft. State's Attorney Swanson refused to disclose the exact nature of the records but issued a formal statement making known their nature and saying they "contained much of interest."

An intensive search had been made for the boxes since Zuta was shot to death on August 1 by five gunmen who stalked into a Wisconsin dance resort and assassinated him as he fed nickels into a mechanical phonograph. Zuta, reputed chief of operations for the Moran-Aldo gang, was supposed to have been ordered to the killing of Alfred Lingle, Tribune crime reporter, and a previous attempt on his own life had been made on July 1.

The finding of the boxes followed by a few hours the killing of Joseph Giovino, an alleged bootlegger, in Rockford, Illinois, was reported to death by gunmen in an automobile as he stood talking to two policemen. Nearby at the time was Thomas Abbottini, alias Abbott, a known racketeer, whose name had been linked with both the Zuta and Lingle killings, and police said it was likely that the bullets had been meant for him.

Abbottini disappeared after the shooting but later gave himself up for questioning at Chicago detective headquarters.

The Zuta records were kept closely guarded and photostatic copies were made of each and every item. Authorities said they would oppose every effort made to have the records impounded. Swanson was not prepared to say whether he would present his findings to a grand jury.

TWO MEN SLAIN IN RACKET WAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—Two men were killed and another seriously wounded today when police said was a fresh outbreak of a building racket war in "Little Italy" on the upper East Side.

All of the victims were in the contracting business. They were sitting in the second floor office of a building at 352 East 118th street, owned by Pietro Morello, when the door was flung open and two men opened fire. Morello and Joseph Perrano fell dead and Gaspar Pollaro was wounded.

Police said Morello was a step-brother of Ciro Terranova, whose dinner to Magistrate Albert Vitale last year was held up by gunmen, leading to revelations that resulted in removal of Vitale from the city bench.

RADIO AID FUNDS TO BE EXPENDED IN FARM RELIEF

Governors Pledge Co-operation, Speed Homeward To Place Latest Plan in Operation.

BY LYLE C. WILSON,
United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(U.N.) Plans for speeding up expenditure of federal road aid funds to provide employment for drought-stricken farmers were announced by federal officials today as leaders of the three national farm organizations pledged President Hoover their complete co-operation with his relief program.

Meanwhile governors who attended the drought relief conference at the White House yesterday were hurrying home tonight to place the program in operation in their states. The relief organization is expected to be completed within 10 days.

Co-operation of the farm organizations was promised to the president late today by L. J. Taber, of the National Grange; Sam T. Thompson, of the American Farm Bureau Federation; and C. C. Talbert, of the Farmers' Union.

They expressed hearty approval of the relief plan formulated by the president and approved by the governors at the conference yesterday.

Several of the governors called at the White House for further discussion of the plan today. There was no public criticism of the program, but several of the governors privately expressed disappointment that there was no specific plan for advancing federal funds in the emergency.

More Definite.

Governor Erickson, democrat, Montana, frankly said he had hoped for something more definite in the way of providing credit by the federal government.

Governor Reed, republican, Kansas, also discussed with the president and the national farm organizations the plan for carrying live stock over the distress period.

Reed declared it will take between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 to carry the 1,000,000 head of cattle in his state, which are in the hands of reliable farmers who have exhausted their credit because of the drought.

He said it would be impracticable to carry the cattle to states in which food is plentiful and the problem was to provide the small farms with enough credit to supplement the supply. His plan is for the farm board to provide the credit through the Farmers' National Grain Corporation or some other subsidiary.

Reed said he had obtained assurance from Legge the program could be carried out, if the live stock industry of Kansas would cooperate in its differences with the farm board.

Governors Weaver, Nebraska; Leslie, Indiana; and Hammill, Iowa, all republicans, expressed complete satisfaction with the president's program.

Meanwhile other governmental agencies were at work to relieve the drought. Secretary of War, Hurley, granted Chicago permission to increase the diversion of water from Lake Michigan for sewerage disposal. Chicago was authorized to divert sufficient water to drain out the sanitary canals.

Federal Pasturage.

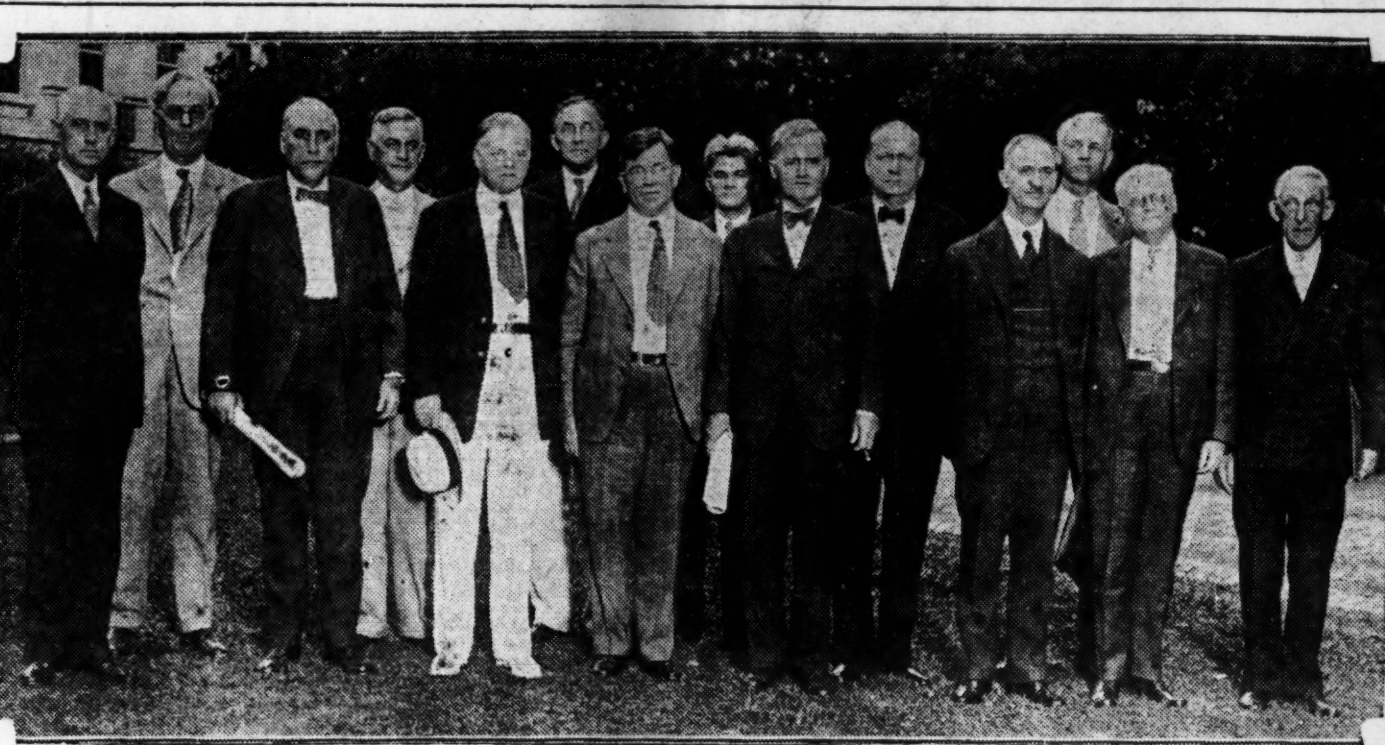

Hurley also placed at the disposal of the state of Virginia large amounts of federal land for pasturage, which were requested by Governor Pollard, of that state.

Plans for speeding up the appropriation of funds for road building were announced by Secretary of Agriculture, Hyde, after conferences with several of the governors.

Hyde said it had not yet been determined how much could be made immediately available, but said sufficient money proposed for expenditure next year that they probably will return to terra firma at Lakewood Park Sunday afternoon.

Sunday will mark the pilots' 23rd day on the water. At midnight last night, 511 hours had been passed, eclipsing the former world's record by 240 hours.

Governors Meet With Hoover on Means To Combat Drouth

Chief executives of the states most seriously affected by the recent drouth are shown on the White House lawn just after the meeting at which a comprehensive relief program was agreed on. Included in the group are: Governors Caulfield, Missouri; Emmerson, Illinois; Leslie, Indiana; Cooper, Ohio; Conley, West Virginia; Pollard, Virginia; Erickson, Montana; Weaver, Nebraska; Hammill, Iowa; Reed, Kansas; Harvey, Tennessee; proxy for Governor Parnell, Arkansas; Senator Robison, Kentucky, and Commissioner Fitts, representing Governor Horton, Tennessee. President Hoover is in the center of the group (with white trousers).

CHINESE RETAKE CITY FROM REBELS

Nationalists Claim Big Victory in Shantung Province.

NANKING, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—Victory for nationalist armies in Shantung and Honan provinces, including the recapture of Tsinan, capital of Shantung province, was claimed by the government today in what some observers say may prove the turning point in the civil war.

Rebel forces which had occupied Tsinan nearly two months were driven out and hurried northward. At other points in the two war-ridden provinces the insurgent forces were overwhelmed and flung back toward the Yellow river.

Large quantities of war supplies were left by the northerners in their hasty retreat from Tsinan, said the official communique of President Chiang Kai-Shek, issued at his headquarters at Lihou, Honan.

Although some quarters reserve the nationalist claims with respect to the situation at Tsinan were generally believed government troops had entered Tsinan or were near the walls.

So decisive was the nationalist thrust along the Haichow-Tungkuang railway in Honan province that Chiang claimed his forces "shortly would be able to drive the rebels from Honan and capture Kaifeng a Cheng-Chow."

The situation at Tsinan resulted in representations from foreign diplomats to the National government to protect foreigners and their property in the city. Recently nationalist air forces bombed the city and killed a score of Chinese residents. Many foreigners fled at the first rebel thrust.

There was a lull in the Yangtze valley where formidable communist forces have threatened Hankow, Nanchang and Kiating.

Seeking to bolster its dwindling finances, the government's minister of finance announced a domestic loan of $30,000,000 Mexican (about $17,000,000 gold) had been secured based on customs revenue.

The government announced $100,000 Mexican had been appropriated for relief of Chinese sufferers in Changsha, recently looted and burned by red armies.

From south China the news was less favorable to the government. Communists were continuing their months of depredations in Kiangsi province.

Worn by the red siege of Kanchow, which had lasted since March, and fearing the small nationalist garrison would be withdrawn, 12 Catholic missionaries arrived at Canton today. They described many red attacks upon the city walls and believed they were to be renewed.

12 REACH SAFETY AFTER HARD JOURNEY.

CANTON, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—Four Catholic priests and eight nuns, forced to flee Hangchow, Kiangsi province, because of communist depredations, arrived here today after an 11-day journey through a country infested with brigands and reds.

The party included the Rev. Fathers MacGillivray, Glens Falls, N. Y.; McClellan, Brooklyn; Corbett.

R-100 Completes Crossing Of Atlantic Early Today

WILL NOT BREAK RECORD, IS BELIEF

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(U.N.)—The R-100, British dirigible en route from Montreal to its home hangar at Cardington, England, radioed its position at 2:45 a. m. (G. M. T. 9:45 p. m. Friday, E. S. T.) as 51:15 north 10:30 west, slightly northwest of Farnet and about 413 miles from its destination.

During the preceding four and a quarter hours the ship maintained a speed of just less than 60 miles per hour, which if kept up would bring it to Cardington at about 9:45 a. m. (G. M. T. 4:45 a. m., E. S. T.).

The message from the dirigible, after giving position, said: "Made Landfall with Farnet just ahead, proceeding due east to Lundy Island and will then shape course for Cardington. Fine weather, occasional fog masses. Everything on top line."

BY E. W. GRANGE,
Correspondent for the Associated Press and London.

ON BOARD R-100, Aug. 15.—(U.N.) Widely contrasting speed, ranging from 15 miles an hour to 100, were shown by the R-100 today as it first bucked squalls and bad weather in general but later sped into ideal conditions with a pleasant wind behind it.

The ship was tortured by heavy rains and wind last night, the gale reaching a speed of 45 miles an hour and cutting that of the airship to 15. The rain broke through the fabric of the ship into the kitchen and put the electric cooker out of commission.

Some of the swirling water also came through the gangway, but it did not bother the passengers. They slept peacefully through the terrific storm and their first intimation that anything had happened came this morning at breakfast, when they were informed there would be no hot drinks because of the disabled stove.

A heavy fog lasted until noon, but then it cleared and with a favorable wind the gigantic airship roared toward the Irish coast and Cardington at a speed of 100 miles an hour.

The passengers did not mind going without hot coffee or tea for breakfast, but they all are craving a smoke. Despite the high speed reached after the fog cleared, it is now considered doubtful that the R-100 will establish a record crossing. The storm is to blame for that.

Our course has now been set for Farnet Light, which, with luck, we hope to strike by 2:30 a. m., G. M. T. We are over a low bank of clouds, however, and it seems too much to hope that it will clear up by then.

We are in very good spirits and spend their time at cards and on reading. The general feeling is that it is good to be home again.

Lovers' Quarrel Blamed as Girl Swallows Poison

A lover's quarrel was blamed Friday night for the alleged suicidal attempt of Miss Ethel Young, 19, of 215 South Main street, East Point, who was admitted to Grady hospital for observation following her admission that she had swallowed a quantity of poison.

According to information gathered by Patrolman Joe Wiley, stationed at the hospital, Miss Young and a companion, T. A. Davis, of 801 East Point avenue, were returning to her home after an evening at a downtown theater. The two are said to have quarreled and after alighting from a street car the girl told Davis to wait for her as she was going into a drugstore to buy some medicine for her mother who was ill.

NEW TARIFF SEES EBBING U. S. TRADE

Nation's Foreign Business Sags Lower as Act Takes Effect.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—American foreign trade in July reached the lowest point in eight years, according to figures issued by the department of commerce today.

This decline was roughly one-third below July imports and exports of a year ago. It was the greatest monthly decline since February, 1922, the department said.

July was the first full month under the new Hawley-Smoot tariff, which opponents predicted would reduce foreign trade. However, department of commerce officials said while the tariff law probably influenced the decline, other factors entered. They said indications now pointed to a pickup of foreign trade. They said low import figures might be attributed in part to the rush of importers to get goods in during June before the new tariff became effective, thus cutting down shipments which normally would have come in during July. Also world trade generally is depressed.

Department officials said, however, July had been marked by a reversal of the gold movement.

Gold Outflow Favorable.

"The gold outflow is welcomed as a highly favorable symptom," the department said. "It will tend to increase purchasing power abroad and to support world price levels."

As compared with July, 1929, our exports declined by 33.2 per cent and our imports by 38 per cent. There has been no comparable monthly decline since February, 1922, following the passage of the tariff revision act.

The figures: Exports—July, 1930, $209,000,000; July, 1929, $309,861,000; decrease, $100,861,000.

Imports—July, 1930, $219,000,000; July, 1929, $352,080,000; decrease, $133,080,000.

Meantime practically two months have passed since President Hoover signed the new tariff bill, June 17, which called for complete reorganization of the tariff commission within 90 days.

The president has encountered difficulty in obtaining qualified men to accept appointment. There is no indication when the personnel of the new commission will be announced. Only two of the present membership are likely to be retained, Chairman Crossland and Vice Chairman Alfred Pearce Dennis. Four more commissioners must be found. Revision of the law under the flexible provision is held up pending reorganization of the commission. More than 100 applications for rate changes have been filed. President Hoover in approving the flexible provision of 1922 into a form which should render it impossible to secure prompt and scientific adjustment of serious inequities and inequalities which may prove to have been incorporated in the bill.

"The complaints from some foreign countries that these duties have been placed unduly high can be remedied, if justified, by proper application to the tariff commission."

SECRET MEETING IS HELD BY G. O. P. OPPOSING BROWN

No Announcement Made as to Action Taken—Arnold-Dunning Committee To Meet Today.

A group of republicans opposed to the administration factions of Postmaster General Brown in the south held a meeting here Friday but declined to make any announcement of what was discussed or what action, if any, was taken.

John B. Dove, acting executive committee member of the group in Georgia, said Friday's session was purely a business gathering that included some of the republicans who recently held a convention in Savannah, and adopted resolutions criticizing the conduct of the administration committees in the southern states. No announcement was made as to the names of those present, but Mr. Dove said they included M. O. Dunning, collector of customs in Savannah and candidate of his faction for senator, and J. W. Arnold, of Athens, chairman of the Georgia central committee of the Dunning-Arnold faction.

Mr. Dove announced that the Arnold-Dunning executive committee would meet here this afternoon to consider the resolutions of policy adopted at the Savannah convention and that a statement would be issued after the meeting on a program for Georgia. The Savannah resolutions, in addition to criticizing the administration factions, praised the leadership of Colonel Horace Mann, who was in charge of the republican campaign in the south during the 1928 presidential campaign. Since then, however, he has not been active in the administration councils.

Among those Mr. Dove said were scheduled to attend to the session are Mr. Dunning, Mr. Arnold and Ben Davis, negro, former republican committee member from Georgia. Mr. Dove also named United States Marshal Louis H. Crawford was a member of the committee, but would be unable to attend.

In connection with Friday's meeting, T. R. Rose, collector of internal revenue in Georgia and one of the leaders of the administration faction in the state, issued a statement saying that "now is the time to stand by the administration, and I have no patience with those who are trying to embarrass it."

Man Near Death
After Plunge
From Viaduct

A man identified by a railroad ticket in his pocket as Henry Morgan, of 1105 Briarcliff place, a disabled World War veteran, was taken to Grady hospital late Friday afternoon in a dire condition after he was picked up from the railroad tracks beneath the Wall street viaduct, at Pryor street, from which he is said to have fallen.

According to the statement of a witness, F. E. Atwood, of the Clayton hotel, to Police Lieutenant L. J. Carroll, the man identified as Morgan crawled to the railing of the viaduct and "rolled off." He fell to the railroad tracks, 40 feet below.

The injured man was rushed to Grady hospital in an ambulance of Harry G. Poole, and an examination there revealed that he was suffering from a fractured skull and ribs and a fractured skull. His condition was reported to be critical late Friday night.

The ticket found in Morgan's pocket entitled him to passage from Atlanta to Phoenix, as a disabled war veteran, and was issued through the National Soldiers' Home of Virginia.

Mrs. Genie M. Burchell, of the Briarcliff place address, and a sister of the injured man, stated that her brother is a printer employed by Georgia Baptist Publishers, Inc., and that he has been planning to enter the government hospital in Virginia for some time.

Mary Lewis Granted Divorce From Singer

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—(U.N.)—Mary Lewis, grand opera star, obtained a divorce today from Michael Bohnen, operatic singer, on charges of desertion and cruelty, in a superior court hearing lasting less than 10 minutes. Bohnen, who was asserted to have left his noted wife in July, 1929, did not contest the action.

Miss Lewis testified Bohnen slapped her, pulled her hair and threw her about the room. Despite this treatment, she said, she followed him to Europe in hope of a reconciliation but learned there he had become engaged to marry a German acrobatic dancer known on the stage as "La Jana."

The court approved a property settlement under which the singer is given $25,000 by Bohnen. The couple was married April 14, 1927.

SITUATION GROWS MORE DESPERATE NEAR KHYBER PASS

Official Statement Warns of "Considerable Gravity and Danger" as More Tribes Join Raiders.

Civil Disobedience Campaign in South Shows Signs of Breaking Up as Leaders Caucus.

SIMLA, India, Aug. 14.—(U.N.)—Powerful garrisons on the northwest frontier today were reinforced with formidable contingents of British and Indian infantry, fully equipped to meet an attack threatened by fierce Afghanistan tribesmen from beyond Khyber Pass.

With the arrival of heavy reinforcements under command of Brigadier General Robertson, martial law was proclaimed throughout the entire Peshawar district where the situation was described officially as "one of considerable gravity and danger."

How dangerous the border status would be could only be told by military and political authorities on the spot. The average layman, however, felt today that he had only too clear a view of the situation in the news that one British and three Indian battalions were moved up from Jhansi to Rawal Pindi, and that a full infantry brigade was being sent to Nowshera, 25 miles east of Peshawar, with a considerable force of other units going to Kohat.

Among the troops sent into the zone of action were the second Southworth Highlanders, the third battalion of the eighth Punjab regiment, the second battalion of the Jat regiment and the third battalion of the eleventh Sikh regiment. The new recruits numbered more than 2,000.

Peshawar advisers indicated that new and dangerous forces were gathering around that center. Many young men began to appear among the Afridi tribesmen concentrating in the rocky fastnesses near the border, replacing older heads who had stood the brunt of royal air force bombing raids in the last fortnight.

Today's official statement came as a shock to those who had believed that so far as the Peshawar area was concerned the Indian situation was appreciably easier and the tribesmen almost completely subdued.

It apparently was true that many of the Afridis had left Peshawar but so far as could be judged from the news that the center of the problem was the problem of expelling the gangs of raiders from the district remained almost as formidable as ever, although the news was not intended to indicate that Peshawar itself was in any real peril.

WAR DEPARTMENT GIVES CHICAGO MORE WATER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Secretary Hurley approved today an increased diversion of water through the Chicago river from Lake Michigan. The secretary's approval of the increase was a result of an appeal by Governor Emmerson, of Illinois, that the present flow is insufficient to serve the sewage disposal work for the city.

Despite a ruling by Charles Evans Hughes as special master for the supreme court last year establishing a maximum diversion of 6,500 cubic feet per second, Secretary Hurley found he was able to make the increase during the drought by arranging to proportionately decrease the flow when the drought is ended.

ROAD BUILDING THREAT SEEN BY JOHN HOLDER

Speaks Before Atlanta Motor Club Friday; All Candidates on the Stump.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The five gubernatorial candidates in Georgia, Friday carried on their campaigns in various parts of the state, with John N. Holder, in a speech before the Atlanta Automobile Club, severely criticizing any plan to divert automobile license tag funds to the payment of deficits in appropriation payments.
Holder said he could not conceive "a more disastrous blow to road building in the state, nor a blow which would do more to retard prosperity within Georgia."
In his judgment, he said, "such a diversion of this fund will not only last through one legislative term, but when this fund is turned into the general fund for appropriation purposes, we will never be able to secure its use again for highway purposes."
"I do not believe that it is fair or just that the automobile owners of Georgia should be required to pay a license fee for the use of improved highways and that license fee be used for paying debts of the state," he said.

really wishes to solve "the problems which it has created," declared Holder, he would suggest that the "chief political adviser" of the governor ask him to call the general assembly into extra session "and provide for payment of the debts now."

Had the governor called such a session several months ago, as he had planned, "six days would have been sufficient time to have either enacted the needed legislation or adjourned," he said.

"No matter should have been included in the call except the deficit and the governor could have asked the legislature to submit to the people a constitutional amendment by which short term notes could be issued to take care of the deficit, and the whole matter could have been taken care of during the year, 1930."

"Then, when the legislature met in 1931, by rigid economy, by careful appropriation and by better distribution of the tax burden, funds could have been found to have taken care of these notes as they matured."

Under no circumstances should a loan be floated to take care of any new obligation of the state, he said.

Carswell in August.

While Holder was speaking at Atlanta, George H. Carswell, who advocated the plan of diverting out of the collection of automobile tag funds was speaking in Richland, explaining his plan, and urging its acceptance.

Unless the plan is adopted, Carswell said, "all kinds of wild suggestions and bills calling for increased taxes will come before the next legislature."

"I am the only candidate," he said, "who has suggested a workable plan to pay the state's debts."

Richard B. Russell, Jr., E. D. Rivers, and James A. Perry, remaining members of the gubernatorial quintet, all spoke today also. Russell, at Calhoun, said the question of raising the state's debts was not an issue, "for all the candidates admit they must be paid."

A conservative administration for the next two years would go far toward getting the state out of debt, he said.

Rivers declared that Carswell "put himself out of the race" when he advocated diverting highway funds, and also charged that he was "using state paid stenographers" to type his speeches, and other state paid employees "to address and mail Carswell propaganda."

Rivers Clubs Formed.
The formation, during the last week, of Rivers-for-Governor Clubs in forty counties throughout the state, was announced from Rivers' campaign headquarters in Atlanta.

James A. Perry, at Eatonton, said that only temporary relief would result "if the present past due obligations of the state were paid, only to have the next legislature continue the excessive appropriations of the past without reducing the running expense enough to make the present tax money cover the appropriations."

His plan of using air rights of the state railroad property in Atlanta and state-owned property in Chattanooga is workable, he said, "but if legislators like three of my opponents, Russell, Rivers and Carswell, all of whom claim to have been highly influential in shaping Georgia legislation, are to continue their wild extravagance, the state will in a year or two be in just as bad a fix as it is now. Getting out of debt is important, but staying out of debt is equally important."

The Senate Hears.
Senator William J. Harris, who seeks renomination to that office, Friday declared that the controversy over Judge Tilson and Judge John J. Parker was "a closed incident," but that he would once again explain why he voted against confirmation of the two men.

"Judge Tilson was appointed federal judge of the middle Georgia district at request of Ben Davis, negro republican national committee man, and was not a resident of the district," he said. "Judge Parker deserted the democratic party, and was not an able lawyer."

While the senator issued his statement in Atlanta, former Governor John M. Slaton, his opponent, spoke at Fort Gaines, and again asked the senator to point out the particulars "in which his record has been misrepresented by me."

"I have not misrepresented any phase of his record," Slaton said. "A man who has served in the United States senate twelve years ought to be able to stand up and defend himself, instead of claiming a foul every time his opponent hits him fairly about the belt."

The former governor also spoke at Georgetown Friday, and at Cuthbert Friday night.

Kissing and petting—under some circumstances—have become expensive in the city made famous by the romance of Dante and Beatrice.

A city judge with an austerity reminiscent of Savonarola sentenced Bruno Irmali to three months and ten days in jail for kissing his fiancée, Letizia Mamoni, in a public park, and the latter three months for accepting his caresses.

Both sentences were suspended later. The penalty in Rome for a similar offense is a mere dollar fine.

Welcome Salad Suggestions

BY JESSIE MARIE DeBOTH

Salad suggestions never come amiss, and in summer time are especially welcome. There is no end to the combinations that are served, but the important point is to have a suitable blend. The desire for novelty induces many women (often those who should know better) to present weird concoctions that are neither delectable nor satisfying—their only excuse being that they're different. But we can vary salad service in numerous ways without sacrificing good taste, both artistically and from the eating standpoint. That old standby, potato salad, is easily taken out of the common place by a few innovations. A noted chef advises that the freshly boiled sliced potatoes and thinly sliced onion be moistened well with hot consommé and allowed to stand until the liquid is absorbed. A bouillon cube in a cup of boiling water answers very well if there is no stock on hand. Then a little French dressing, minced parsley and seasoning is gently stirred through the potatoes and the dish covered close and placed in the refrigerator until serving time, when a light coating of mayonnaise adds the crowning touch. Finely-cut celery or little cubes of cucumber, free from seeds, greatly improve potato salad and capers or shreds of cottage cheese or cream cheese livened with a little Roquefort makes a flavorful spread for pear salad, or in tiny balls may be served with it.

Salads of fish, such as salmon, tuna, white fish, crab meat and shrimp may have the flavor heightened by using some anchovy paste in the dressing, or mashed chutney with the mayonnaise. Flaked red herring, green onions and sliced potatoes make a fine salad. Mixed salad with French dressing. Crisp rice crackers and cottage cheese complete a satisfying service.

California sponsors the unusual combination of sliced orange and onion, especially to serve with game or fowl. After the oranges are peeled so that all the white is removed, they are easy to slice lengthwise on every side until nothing but the seed portion remains and every bit served is edible and attractive. Blend the French dressing with this salad an hour or more before using, chill well and place on romaine or endive.

Level try old friend sauerkraut makes a bid for the salad course. It must be well rinsed through several waters and drained dry before adding the dressing. Celery, green onions, vinegar, salt and sugar are now considered an improvement to all vegetable and fruit salads.

Tripple fruit salads with shredded cabbage, and a cream thinned mayonnaise.

Adjustment Seen in Squabble Over Cutting of City Streets

Committee Named by Streets Body To Iron Out Differences With Local Gas Company.

Amicable adjustment of differences between the Atlanta Gas Light Company, distributors of natural gas in Atlanta, and the borough government over cuts in paved streets for extension of the service was seen following a meeting of the streets committee Friday afternoon.

A special committee composed of Clarke Donaldson, chief of construction; James L. Mayson, city attorney; Alderman G. Everett Millican, Alderman Alvin Richards and Councilman Luke Arnold will confer with officials of the company with a view of ironing out difficulties now being faced by the company, under action of the streets committee.

Philip Alston, representing the company, appeared before the committee asking the following concessions "in the interest of good service and for the benefit of the users":

1. Payment of the $25 charge for cutting paved streets under protest. City Attorney Mayson has ruled that the company is subject to the charge.

2. Suspension of the rule of the committee permitting only half a dozen openings at any one time.

3. Immediate issuance of all permits which have been filed in order that work may proceed on them at once "so that the public will not be inconvenienced."

4. Permission for the company itself to relay the paving under city inspection as provided in the charter granted to the firm.

Mr. Alston and other officials of the company agreed to the proposal of Mr. Donaldson that the company should lay its mains in streets to be paved, as other utility companies do, in order to prevent cutting them.

Mr. Donaldson held that the company has cut streets paved under the baby bond plan within a year after they have been laid although the company itself was notified at the same time that other utility companies were to make connections and lay mains to prevent premature cuttings.

Alderman Millican corroborated Mr. Donaldson's contention, declaring that many such instances exist in the tenth ward and added that something should be done about it at once or property owners will not sign up for payments under the baby bond plan.

Mr. Donaldson pointed out that the regulation which permitted only six cuts at one time was for the convenience of citizens, because if that safeguard were not adhered to many cuts could be made in one neighborhood, thus causing much inconvenience.

Safe-Cracking Laid To Baskin, Oliver

Indictments charging William F. Baskin and C. V. Oliver with burglary and possession of burglar's tools were returned Friday by the Fulton county grand jury. Baskin and Oliver are charged with breaking into the Nickajack Milling & Grain Co., 330 Marietta, on August 13, and possessing three ounces of nitro-glycerine and a dynamite cap and fuse. The Nickajack safe was opened, but $200 hidden behind a ledger was not discovered by the burglars, police said. Police Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant said that he found in the Nickajack office a brace which he had marked with three crosses when he found it in Baskin's home a year ago during a police investigation.

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASEN

The Pledge.

A German ex-officer writes in the Free Press of Vienna of his astonishment upon finding towns like Poperinghe, Poelcapelle and Dixmude in Flanders completely restored without a trace of war ruins. He remarks that when he left that part of the world in 1918, there simply was not any Poperinghe or Poelcapelle. Schools, churches, communal buildings and dwellings by the thousands have been erected on exactly the same spot as they were before. Except that the paint is fresh and the tiles on the roofs brilliant red, one would say that nothing has been changed since 1914, remarks the Herr-traveler. This is very true. Somehow the great nostalgia of the people wanted things back as they once were. And so, on the surface, nothing seemed changed. But the German observer did not go inside the houses. He would have been just as welcome as any American or English visitor, it should be said at once, for there is not a trace of hatred left in those parts. Had he gone inside he would have found a complete modernization of the interiors, roomier, healthier and a lot of up-to-date household equipment. Still, the old style of architecture has been preserved. No modernization in respect, happily. The old Flemish renaissance style is still dominant. Many a fine sample of that style is to be found on a site where there existed a nondescript dwelling in pre-war days. Had the German visitor entered a few homes, he would have seen one of the most interesting and important ones, containing a most impressive and happy promise. Over the chimneys in many of these houses he would have seen an inscription in some of the most important of the wall in others stitched in lace or embroidery. The legend only carries these three words: "Nicht Meer Oorlog," which means "Never a War."

Until republican leaders and officeholders in the south forget personal ambitions and petty jealousies and put cheap politics in the back-ground, they are going to remain just so many cats-paws for scheming politicians in Washington.

The better class of southern republicans, united under able leaders, would wield a strong influence in the affairs of the national organization instead of as now, occupying the humiliating position in which their lack of cohesion has placed them.

RELIEF FOR LOCAL WANT.

The allied churches of the city will hold a general meeting at the City Auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon to form and adopt plans to aid the necessitous unemployed of the community. The movement is timely and worthy of the co-operative support of every local humanitarian.

Unfortunately there are many men and women in Atlanta who, through no fault or self-negligence, are out of work and hard pressed for the actual necessities of life. The general business depression has caused a severe slump in productive labor, clerical and sales service, and construction work. That condition has involuntarily thrown these willing workers out of earning opportunities and made them humiliated and needy victims. They deserve the sympathy and sustenance that their more fortunate neighbors are able to afford.

Let it be understood that the relief movement is to be voluntarily and carefully conducted and that every cent of the relief funds will be devoted to the purpose for which it is given. There will be no expense of administration.

No worthier nor more appealing cause has come before the hearts of Atlantans in many a year and it should move the people to prompt and liberal responses. This is a big-hearted, generous community and will not bear the ill-repute of having worthy neighbors suffer acute want through no dereliction of their own. Our people have the means to relieve the present economic distress of their unwillingly unemployed fellow men and women, and the meeting on Sunday afternoon should fully demonstrate their Good Samaritan readiness.

THE LIFE OF THE STATE.

A federal district court in Wisconsin has refused to enjoin the collection of a state tax. The theory is upheld that the injunctive power of a court is not properly invoked for a such a purpose when the tax is manifestly not confiscatory. The proper remedy is suit for the recovery of the tax after its payment under protest. In such suit the validity of the tax may be called in question and decided in due course. The trend of court decisions, as shown by quotations of many decisions in the several states, is to refuse holding up the revenues of a state wholesale at the instance of a taxpayer who thinks that the state is oppressive upon him. The levying of a state tax is a sovereign act that should be incontestable by injunction, especially where a remedy at law is provided by the state.

In some states, as in Kentucky in the case of its sales tax, it is provided in the statute that no court of the state shall have authority to enjoin its collection. That is a correct principle to be applied in view of the fact that the functioning of the state is dependent upon the prompt and full collection of its tax revenues.

General Toombs held that view when he had inserted in the constitution of Georgia the declaration that "the right of taxation is a sovereign right, inalienable, indestructible, is the life of the state," and that no department of the government should have the authority to "limit or restrain" that right.

Under the constitution, therefore, any court that would undertake to enjoin the collection of a state tax may be considered as attacking "the life of the state." The supreme court has never allowed such attacks to be successful.

Governor Smith is billed to talk again over the "radio" in this campaign. At that he is a pronounced artist.

Actor Jack Pickford has picked another wife, with no date set for her fadeout.

Letters From a Bald-Headed Dad to a Flapper Daughter

BY ROBERT QUILLEN

My Dear Louise:

You remember the time when good fortune descended on you in bunches and you had so many boxes of candy you didn't know what to do with them?

As I remember it, you got so fed-up that for many weeks thereafter any mention of sweets brought to your eyes the dismal expression peculiar to those of a gold fish that has been too long out of water.

I was reminded of the incident yesterday when I observed your growing enthusiasm for a certain family new to your acquaintance.

They are, so far as I know, fine people. I see no reason why you shouldn't cultivate and enjoy them. In fact, it would please me if your present relation should ripen into a solid and enduring friendship.

But your present tactics are designed to accomplish a result exactly opposite.

At the rate you are going, another month or two will find you regarding this family with the disfavor commonly bestowed upon something the cat drags in.

It is just as easy to get fed up on people as it is to get fed up on candy.

Too much of a good thing makes it an abomination, and the finest of people lose their charm if you have them as a regular diet.

Perhaps you think you aren't with them enough to risk boredom, but that is only half of the danger.

Your present high regard for them is an enthusiasm and enthusiasm is an abnormal state that can't last. Nature quises it to burn out quickly because it is too much of a strain.

Friendships that ripen slowly usually keep well, but the ones that develop in a day usually spoil as quickly.

You begin by being "crazy" about people, your affection is certain to dwindle within a month. No runner who sprints at the beginning can hold the pace.

You must learn the art of repression—and suppression.

In short, don't get too thick with anybody, for the more intimate you are the sooner you will get fed up.

Love those who are worth it; but when you find friends worth keeping, don't risk losing them by jading your appetite.

Love, DAD.

"In order to clear my soul I wish to say that there are statements in the report from which I conscientiously and vehemently dissociate myself."

The resolution to which Dr. Carey referred agreed that birth control is a matter of the greatest importance to the human race and that there is a moral obligation to limit or avoid parenthood, provided this was done in the light of Christian teaching and with healthy motives, not from motives of selfishness, luxury or mere convenience.

Of 13 co-defendants one, Victor Dumbra, was sentenced to serve four months, and the rest were given suspended sentences. Among the latter was the late Governor of Youngstown, Ohio. The bishop's flock is scattered through more than a score industrial cities.

Remember, father, the sentencing judge said to the Youngstown priest, "you should not do anything like this, bishop or no bishop. If a bishop ever asks you to do anything of this sort, tell him where to go."

When the black-garbed, stolid bishop rose to hear his sentence, the judge told him he had debauched his priests.

"Believing they must do as the bishop they worked for told them," he said, "they signed a withdrawal from the church and were not at a time when a few gallons was all they needed."

Millican Likely To Aid Fight On McLendon's Resignation

Alderman Expected To Join Councilman Spratt in Latter's Move To Push Impeachment of Official

Probability that Alderman G. Everett Millican, of the tenth ward, will join his colleague, Councilman Nelson T. Spratt, in the latter's attempt to prevent acceptance of the resignation of Councilman W. Chester McLendon, Jr., convicted by a special council committee of being "unfit" to hold a post as a member of the council of Atlanta, loomed Friday afternoon.

Although Mr. Millican had not definitely made up his mind as to what course he will take in the matter when McLendon's resignation is offered Monday to general council he declared: "I will have several things to say to him that he will not like before he leaves."

McLendon's decision to quit council came Friday as an aftermath of the findings of the special council committee Thursday afternoon, and was based, he stated, on an announcement he made when he asked that the council committee be named. At that time he stated if the committee void his conduct reprehensible, he would retire voluntarily.

"In view of my former statement, I will file my resignation in council Monday," McLendon said.

Objection to the "peaceful retirement" of the indicted councilman through the resignation route was voiced Friday by Mr. Spratt after he learned that McLendon had decided to ask that his resignation be accepted.

McLendon was called before the committee Thursday afternoon while it was in executive session and given the choice of resigning or having a recommendation made to council Monday that impeachment charges be filed against him by the committee.

At that time he declined to announce his decision, saying he wished to study the matter and consult friends.

Mr. Spratt will demand that the impeachment recommendation which the committee drew be filed and that McLendon be forced to stand trial on the charges.

"The evidence adduced at the trial calls for action, in my opinion, and cannot consistently do anything but demand that we proceed with the impeachment trial," Mr. Spratt said.

"Mr. McLendon brought this hearing on himself, and has no one else to blame for the findings of the committee."

McLendon struck back at Alderman Millican during a session of the council committee Wednesday afternoon when he fired a volley of questions at the alderman concerning his own activities.

Blazing Body Found On Maryland Beach

BALTIMORE, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Lying across the top of a blazing pile of logs and brush the charred body of a man identified as Joseph Reimer, 34, was discovered today on North Point beach, Baltimore county, 10 miles southeast of here.

Police recovered the body and although due to its condition they were unable to tell whether shots had been fired, advanced the theory the man had been strangled, and tossed into the flames. It was also believed kerosene had been first poured on his clothing.

The bonfire had been made of logs, fence posts and branches ripped from trees. Neighbors said they had observed the flames several hours before the arrival of county officers.

Money in the man's house was undisturbed. Police discounted a suicide version and insisted the man had been murdered.

Boy Blames Negroes For Murderous Attack

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 15.—(AP)—Floyd Alston, 18, Centerville, Tenn., was killed and a companion, Ernest George, 20, also of Centerville, was injured seriously today by four negroes who George said attacked them in a railway box car.

George said the negroes boarded the car with them early this morning. When the Illinois Central freight reached Covington, Tenn., near here, George said, the negroes drew knives, beat them and threw them from the car after seizing their money.

Unconscious after plunging from the moving train, George lay near the tracks from 3 a. m. until noon, authorities were told. A farmer, Rube Davidson, found him and together they began a search for Alston.

Davidson and George said Alston's body was found about a half mile from the spot where George regained consciousness. They said the body had been beaten and that Alston was killed by the blows or by the fall when he was thrown from the car.

Railway special officers and authorities at towns along the Illinois Central were asked to search for the negroes.

George said he and Alston had been picking cotton near Shaw, Miss., and were on their way home when they boarded the train here this morning.

Despite the fact that a number of tests were made during the day, no donor had been selected Friday night, as all specimens of blood collected failed to match. Additional tests are to be made at 9 o'clock this morning.

Despite the fact that a number of tests were made during the day, no donor had been selected Friday night, as all specimens of blood collected failed to match. Additional tests are to be made at 9 o'clock this morning.

Davidson and George said Alston's body was found about a half mile from the spot where George regained consciousness. They said the body had been beaten and that Alston was killed by the blows or by the fall when he was thrown from the car.

Railway special officers and authorities at towns along the Illinois Central were asked to search for the negroes.

George said he and Alston had been picking cotton near Shaw, Miss., and were on their way home when they boarded the train here this morning.

HOOPER TACKLES AIR PROBLEMS AT CAMP

Takes Lindy and Anne and U. S. Officers to Mountaintains.

ORANGE, Va., Aug. 15.—(AP)—President Hoover, his drouth relief organization under way, turned to aviation problems at his mountain lodge here tonight with a view to determining what economies may be effected in the various military and civil air branches.

With Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and four government aeronautic officials among his guests, the president hoped to develop in conferences over the week-end some definite plan of eliminating duplication of effort in the government's air services.

If this can be accomplished without impairing efficiency, Mr. Hoover believes a long step will have been taken in the advancement of aviation.

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh came here with other guests ahead of the President and Mrs. Hoover, after the aviator had been presented in Washington by the president with a special congressional gold medal commemorating his aviation achievements.

Other guests participating in the aviation conferences were E. T. Rube Davidson, assistant secretary of war; David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary of the navy; Clarence M. Young, assistant secretary of commerce, and W. Irving Glover, assistant postmaster general. All supervise the air activities of their respective departments.

Allan Hoover accompanied his parents on the trip today. The presidential party also included Adolph Ochs, publisher of The New York Times; Will Durant, the author; Everett Sanders, who was President Coolidge's secretary, and Mrs. Sanders; French Stiecher, research secretary to the president, and Mrs. Stiecher; Mrs. Dare S. McMullin, of Palo Alto; Lawrence Richey, secretary to Mr. Hoover; Captain Joel F. Boone, the president's physician; Colonel Campbell Hodges, military aide, and Captain Charles R. Train, naval aide.

'Bill' Crosswell, Now Famed Pilot, To Visit Old Home

William J. Crosswell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crosswell, of 339 Ponce de Leon avenue, and now one of the country's best known pilots, will arrive on the Crescent Limited at 5:20 o'clock this afternoon for a two-week vacation in Atlanta, his home town. A graduate of Georgia Tech, "Bill" Crosswell now is chief test pilot for the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company, at New York, where he added to his fame last April by diving 7,000 feet with the throttle of his fighting biplane held wide open over Mitchell Field, Long Island.

On his last visit to Atlanta, which took place during the Ford Reliability tour last fall, Crosswell was flying a huge Curtiss Condor, twin-motored transport plane. He began his career as an aviator shortly after his graduation from Tech when he went to Brooks and Kelly fields at San Antonio, Texas, emerging with the commission of second lieutenant in the air corps. After his resignation from the service he took up his present position with the Curtiss Company.

The "Hell-Diver," as they dubbed the new bombing plane in which Crosswell made several 7,000-foot power dives, stood the terrific strain perfectly, but no more so than Crosswell, who taxied up to his hangar and climbed out unconcernedly to greet the waiting reporters. "Get a thrill, Bill?" someone asked him. "What does it feel like to be heading for terra firma at 300 per cent?" But Bill only smiled, according to the new stories. It was all in the day's work for him.

Allan Hoover accompanied his parents on the trip today. The presidential party also included Adolph Ochs, publisher of The New York Times; Will Durant, the author; Everett Sanders, who was President Coolidge's secretary, and Mrs. Sanders; French Stiecher, research secretary to the president, and Mrs. Stiecher; Mrs. Dare S. Reynolds, Stradley Seek Council Seats

Frank H. Reynolds, councilman from the eighth ward, who was defeated in the primary for renomination by J. Frank Beck, will become a candidate for the aldermanic post held by Claude E. Buchanan, resigned.

Mr. Reynolds has been one of the councilmanic leaders for several years and served on many important committees.

W. C. Stradley, former member of the police board and prominent in sixth ward politics, will be a candidate in the general election, December 3, to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the resignation of Councilman James J. Osburn, of the seventh ward.

Mr. Stradley filed official notice Friday with Mayor J. N. Ragsdale of his intention to run.

He lives at 487 Ontario avenue, and is a member of the board of deacons of the Baptist Tabernacle, and is prominent in fraternal circles.

What remained as uncertain as it has been for days past was the extent to which the propaganda of the Afridis had influenced neighboring tribes. That the Orkneys were seriously affected today became clear. From the Bajur district also came the report of a resumption of activities of that old firebrand the Haji of Turangzi, whose agents long had endeavored to induce tribesmen to come to the help of the Afridis although until recently with indifferent success.

A different drama was being enacted far to the southward. Civil resistance leaders who for three days had been debating the possibilities of a cessation of their program with the Mahatma Gandhi at the Yeroda jail at Poona concluded their discussions.

ROSE SCOFFS PLANS FOR G. O. P. SCHISM

State Republican Leader
"Has No Patience" for Heads of New Move.

Citing President Hoover's declaration to the Kansas City convention and declaring that the president has used his power and influence "in behalf of all the people," J. T. Rose, collector of internal revenue for Georgia and generally looked upon as the chief figure in republican councils of the state, late Friday issued a statement saying he had no patience with those who are trying to embarrass the administration.

The Rose statement was called forth by published reports of a meeting to be held by a group headed by M. O. Dunning, of Savannah. An organization of southern republicans, according to a statement issued by Dunning, Colonel Horace Mann and Joe Tolbert, of South Carolina, was to be formed to rid the party of "undesirables."

Mr. Rose's statement said: "I have no interest in any meeting that may be held here today. I have not analyzed the constitution of principles as promulgated as a basis for opposition to the administration. I am entirely satisfied with President Hoover's declaration to the Kansas City convention when he was nominated: 'Shall the world have peace? Shall prosperity in this nation be more thoroughly distributed? Shall we build steadily toward the ideal of equal opportunity to all our people? Shall there be secured that obedience to law which is the essential assurance of life of our institutions? Shall honesty and righteousness in government and in business confirm the confidence of the people in their institutions and their laws?'"

"Senator George H. Moses in notifying President Hoover of his nomination said: 'Your training, your equipment and above all your character make you the leader for whom the party has looked.' I have never doubted for a minute these words of Senator Moses."

Carswell To Outline Debt Relief Policy

BUENA VISTA, Ga., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—George H. Carswell, candidate for governor, will appear before the Marion county voters here this afternoon in completing a week of campaigning.

Carswell will outline his platform and his plan for relieving Georgia of her "state debt," and inform Confederate veterans and the feeble-minded unfortunates of the insane asylum at Milledgeville, his statement said.

Carswell's plan is to divert $5,000,000 of the state's auto tax money from the road building program for one year and paying "these long and rightfully due debts to the various counties and institutions of the state."

He states that by diverting this amount for one year that the road building will not be hampered but "the suffering of humanity will be relieved and the education of the children of the state will be assured."

E. E. Dallis Addresses American Craftsmen

RUFFALO, N. Y., Aug. 15.—(Special.)—One of the most constructive talks delivered before the annual convention of the American Craftsmen of America, which concluded its convention this afternoon, was made by Ernest E. Dallis, head of the Johnson-Dallis Company, general advertising agency, of Atlanta, on "How a Sales Manager Should Run Your Memorial Shop."

Mr. Dallis, who is advertising counsel for the Georgia Marble Company, of Tate, Georgia, held the attention of the convention throughout his address. The Memorial Craftsmen of America is composed of the leading marble quarriers, wholesalers and dealers throughout the United States, and the attendance at the convention approximated 1,500.

The convention was held in the Statler hotel and was in session since Tuesday morning.

Following Mr. Dallis' talk a lengthy discussion of the sales points he brought out was entered into by the members of the convention.

The convention concluded its session with the election of officers this afternoon.

Police Musicians To Leave Today For Philadelphia

The Atlanta police band will leave the city today to attend the national convention of the Veterans of All Wars in Philadelphia. It was announced Friday by Captain Grover C. Smith, secretary and treasurer of the musical organization.

The band on this trip will be composed of 36 pieces, and will be away for about 10 days. Public and private donations and proceeds from a mid-night matinee, have made the trip possible.

According to Captain Fain, the objective of this trip is to further the work started by the band several years ago. The band will be in Philadelphia for a $3,000,000 home and hospital for veterans which is to be located in the southeastern section. It was on this trip to Cuba, when the band attended a national meeting of the Spanish War veterans, that much good-will was created for Atlanta. Captain Fain stated, and the support of many delegates promised in helping bring the home here.

Other southern cities are sending large delegations to the Philadelphia convention to place bids for their own cities. The police band and a large delegation from the Spanish War veterans camps of Atlanta, approximately 100 strong, will represent Atlanta's claim.

16th Incendiary Fire Razes Vacant House

When flames broke out in several different places at the same time and firemen found kerosene cans lying about, a blaze which caused heavy damage to vacant residential quarters above a grocery at 39 Georgia avenue, S. E., early Friday morning, was listed Friday as another incendiary fire.

The two-story frame structure which had formerly housed several apartments and the grocery, was the property of Max Danneman, of 94 Georgia avenue, S. E. He stated Friday that he could give no explanation of the origin of the first fire, but that he had resided there had moved a week ago.

According to police records, an explosion was heard in the building just before the fire was discovered. This was the third fire of alleged incendiary origin of the week and makes the 16th such fire since June 30. The grocery store operated by S. Bernath was heavily damaged by smoke and water.

Sacred Harp Singers Meet in Courthouse

Harmony swelled through the courthouse Friday as the 85th annual interstate Sacred Harp musical singing convention opened for a three-day session in Judge John D. Humphries' courtroom. S. C. Mann, of 488 Woodward, S. E., grandson of the late Major B. F. White, author of the Sacred Harp song book, is chairman of the convention for his tenth year.

Lunch is served the singers each midday in the basement of the courthouse. A night session will be held tonight. The song book was published by Major White in response to a popular demand created by the publication of an original song in each issue of his weekly paper, The Organ, in Harris county. The singing society, organized in Pike county in 1844 as the southern musical convention. The name was changed to the Chattahoochee convention and later to the Sacred Harp convention.

Call Officer V. H. Whitley was exonerated for the shooting of C. R. Braden, of 308 Grant street, Wednesday night, in a report made Friday night to Captain Grover C. Fain by Lieutenant J. W. Blazer, who was detailed to investigate the case.

Sensations Forecast In Local Graft Probe

Sensational developments in the city graft investigation when the grand jury meets Tuesday were hinted Friday following an all-day session. Indications are that indictments growing out of an investigation of Grady hospital will be returned at that time.

In a general investigation under way Friday, witnesses included Chief of Police James L. Beavers, Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, and City Purchasing Agent W. P. Price. Reports at the solicitor-general's office were that the grand jury was putting in the time clearing up various angles of the investigation, with no special reference to any department.

Assistant Solicitor-General Ed A. Stephens is conducting the grand jury probe in the absence of Solicitor-General John A. Boykin, who is out of the city on a vacation.

Price, who was called to the grand jury witness rooms Friday, was acquitted some months ago when tried on an indictment resulting from the graft probe.

Cubs Increase Lead by Beating Brooklyn in Ten Innings, 4-3

STARB RETURNS HOME; FISTIC CIRCLES BUZZ

CUBS NOSE OUT ROBINS AND GO 2 GAMES AHEAD

Root Bests Luque in 10 Innings in Fourth Game.

By William Weekes, Associated Press Sports Writer. CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—(P)—Young Danny Taylor's second double of the afternoon off old Adolfo Luque in the tenth inning of another dramatic battle today boosted the Cubs to a 4-to-3 victory over Brooklyn's desperate Robins.

The blow, a solid smash to right field for which Babe Herman made a brilliant but vain attempt, scored Woody English from second base and proved a staggering punch on the collective Brooklyn chin. It gave the National league champions three victories in the four-game series, with their fourteenth triumph out of 19 games with the Robins this season, and sent them two full precious games ahead of the Flatbush clan in the standing.

The contest had been a thrilling pitching battle between Luque and Charlie Root, one which kept an overflow throng of nearly 45,000 spectators in constant uproar.

After the first inning, and until the ninth when Brooklyn tied the score to send the game into extra innings, Root pitched almost perfect baseball, and any little slips by the Cub right hander were more than offset by a defense through which it would have been almost impossible to toss a handful of birdshot. Double plays jerked Root out of trouble of his own making when he walked two men in the fourth and spoiled another Robin drive in the sixth.

PRIZE CATCH. The prize catch of the game came in the Robins' half of the tenth and was produced by Allyn Cuyler on Blistering Babe Herman's tremendous smash to right center. Cuyler raced from near the right field foul line clear into Hack Wilson's territory to snare the drive, which looked labelled for three bases.

The Robins wasted no time in making their bid for victory. Johnny Freeland opened the first inning with a single to left and Gilbert followed with one to right. Herman fanned and Bissonette forced out at first. Fredrick got to third, Eddie Moore dropped a double into the left field over Cuyler, scoring Fredrick, while Bissonette was held at third. Lopez cleaned up the Robins' scoring until the ninth by singling off English's glove to score Bissonette.

The Cubs were smothered until the fifth when three doubles into the crowd squeezed out one run. Danny Taylor started the inning with his first double and raced home on a hit of the same proportions by Grimm. Grimm was caught at third on Farrell's grounder but Root punched another "crowd" double into left field. Ground rules, however, held Farrell at third and Blair was out.

TIED IN SIXTH. The National league champions tied the score in the sixth on a double by Cuyler and a single by this same Danny Taylor.

Root held Brooklyn until the ninth when he Roone, batting for Babe Bressler, doubled to center and scored on a single by another pinch batsman, Ray Culp, who appeared for Glenn Wright. Taylor, who was sent out yesterday to play left field in place of Riggs Stephenson, failed to do much Thursday but had a carnival today. His first double was turned into a run and his single sent Cuyler in with the tying run, while his last smash sounded taps for the Robins' hopes of gaining an even break in the series.

Babe Herman found Root nothing like the other Cub pitchers who worked in the series. Root fanned him the first two times he came up, and forced him to roll out to Blair on two other occasions. Root gave the Robins only eight hits in ten innings and fanned four men. Luque gave up only one hit in the first four innings, but was soiled for 11 more in the next five and two-thirds sessions.

An approximate total of 160,000 persons saw the four-game series, bettering the mark set in the last Brooklyn appearance on Wrigley field when about 140,000 watched four games. Brooklyn left Chicago to open a long series against Pittsburgh while Joe McCarthy and his Cubs prepared to play a five-game set with the Phillies. Two gamblers will be played tomorrow with Bud Tschoutz and Bob Osborn the likely Chicago pitching choices.

ISH WILLIAMS BREAKS RECORD AT CHARLOTTE

Other Marks Fall in Mid Atlantic Swimming Meet.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 15.—With Tench's human fish, leading the way as the cream of Dixie's aquatic stars splashed away in opening events at the annual mid-Atlantic swimming trials.
Swimming across the Myers Farm pool with an exhibition that thrilled a huge gallery, Williams, representing Rome, Ga., topped marks in the 50, 100 and 220 yards, to place his team far ahead in the men's division.
He splashed off the half centimeter event in 25 1-5 seconds, the minimum in 58 flat and the 220 in 2 minutes

Thomas Joyner, Savannah, held the former 50-yard record at 25 4/5 seconds; Hodges Briscoe, Knoxville, the 33 1/2 at 58-3/4 seconds, and Harold Stuhler, the 220 mark at 2 minutes 3 seconds.

With Williams thrilling the crowd with his performances in the men's division, it remained for Henrietta Gibson, Charleston, and Louise Stuhler, her twin sister, to provide excitement for the feminine spectators.

Miss Gibson clicked off the 50-yard dash in 30 seconds flat for a new mark. Miss Stuhler stroking out the 440 event in 6 minutes 50 seconds was another record.

BREAKS OWN MARK

Miss Gibson broke her own mark for the 50, having held it at 30 1/4 seconds. Miss Stuhler lowering the record to 6 minutes 40 seconds was another Josephine Jiams, Knoxville, bettered the record for the 220 dash in the junior women's division, making the distance in 3 minutes 9-25 seconds. Her record was former record held by Louise Stuhr at 3 minutes 15 seconds.

William Grover, of Savannah, added another new mark when he swam the 100-yard breast stroke in 1 minute 20-25 seconds, breaking the record of 1 minute 21-25 seconds held by L. T. Temple, Chattanooga.

Joe Temple, Chattanooga, was the

The Charleston senior women's team hung up the ninth new mark in the 400-yard relay, with time of minutes 29 seconds. Winston-Salem formerly held the record at 3 minutes 32 1-5 seconds.

Strong Church Teams Meet in Today's Games

TERRY GLEANS FOUR FOR FIVE TO BOOST MARK

Babe Herman Drops To Tie Klein in Big Six.

While rain kept the American league half of the Big Six idle yesterday, Bill Terry continued his clouting to increase his lead over the other National league members. The Giant first sacker drove out a home run, a double and a single in five times at bat and added three points to his batting average, bringing it to .412. Babe Herman found Charlie Root more troublesome than other Chicago pitchers and failed to send the ball into safe territory in five attempts. As a result, he dropped five points to .400 and fell into a tie with Chuck Klein, who held his average at that level by making three hits in nine times at bat in the Phillies' doubleheader.

Misdated Blanks Spread Confusion

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Aug. 15. (AP)—Local committees in charge of preparations for the annual South-eastern A. A. U. swimming meet here August 28-29, were today engaged in an attempt to straighten out confusion resulting from the mailing of entry blanks from Atlanta, carrying the dates as a week earlier.

Local Officials Rectify Error.

In the absence of Frank Kopf, secretary, from the city, entry blanks were mailed to prospective entrants, giving the date as August 22 and 23. Since the blanks have been mailed it was learned that the committee had changed the dates to August 28-29 and telegrams have been sent to every prospective entrant advising them of the new dates. George Griffin will be in charge of the entries until Kopf returns to the city next week.

American Crews Win in Belgium

LIEGE, Belgium, Aug. 15. (AP)—Both of the American crews entered in the international rowing regatta scored victories in the opening heats today. The Penn A. C. senior eight from Philadelphia, won its heat from Denmark after the Quincy, Ill., four had beaten Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

All Rye Tennis Stopped by Rain

RYE, N. Y., Aug. 15. (AP)—Rainy weather today forced postponement of the entire schedule of play in the eastern grass court tennis championships. Semi-finals in singles and doubles, both men's and women's, will be held tomorrow, weather permitting, with the finals on Sunday.

HARPER TO FACE ROUGH OPPONENT

Wrestling fans who like clever wrestling mixed with a dash of rough stuff will have another evening of that sort of entertainment next Monday night at Spiller field.

Paul Harper, young Texan, who disposed of Charlie Fox, the tough egg from Cleveland last week, will take on Chief Tom Marvin, the Indian grappler, in the main event of the card Monday night. This match should be one of the best of its kind staged here. Marvin is a rough and tumble wrestler, while Harper is a smooth, easy going young grappler, who knows all about the game. Marvin also is well up on the tricks of the game. It will be a good match to watch.

The semi-final event should be a good one. Johnny Spiller, Brown University coach, who appeared here on the last card, will swap grunts and jabs with George Tragos, the St. Louis demon. This affair should be anything but tame. Tickets are on sale at the Piedmont Hatters and the Candler Building Soda Company. Ladies will be admitted to any seat in the park for $1. A short match will open the card.

Smith, of Braves, Is Hack Wilson's Favorite Hurler

CHICAGO, Aug. 15. (AP)—In collecting 40 home runs so far this season Hack Wilson, of the Cubs, has found Pitcher Bob Smith, of Boston, to be his favorite server.

Wilson has picked on Smith for four of his home runs, while the other members of the Braves pitching staff have suffered enough to make their total contribution eight for the season. Next to Smith, the Dempsey of the dugouts likes Wild Bill Hahlan, of St. Louis, who has thrown him three home run balls. Dazzler Vance and Ray Phelps, of Brooklyn; Claude Willoughby and Phil Collins, of the Phillies; and Tiny Chaplin, of the Giants, all have been rocked twice by Hack's home run bat. Fifteen of Wilson's league-leading collection have been scored on foreign diamonds.

HELEN JACOBS HAS TOUGHEST BREAK OF ALL

Little California Star Compelled To Pass Up Big Chance.

By William Ritt,

Central Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Macdonald Smith wasn't exactly flooded with luck when Bobby Jones nosed him out of both the British and American open titles by a few strokes this summer. Nor did Rogers Hornsby figure himself the favored child of fate when an injury tossed him out of the Chicago Nationals' lineup and overnight changed him from a star to a casualty.

Nor was Jack Sharkey dealt a square deal by the gods of pugilism when, in the heat of battle, one of his punches swung low enough to disqualify him and cost him the world heavyweight title.

However, none of these tough breaks of the 1930 sport season were any tougher to take than that one handed little Miss Helen Jacobs, long regarded the crown princess of American tennis but now the queen of the racket.

Miss Jacobs takes her tennis seriously. She has for years striven mightily to improve her game to the point where she might win his values most highly, the national tennis championship, from her fellow Californian, Mrs. Helen Wills Moody.

In the 1928 tourney Miss Jacobs fought her way to the finals in which she was beaten by the then Miss Wills. Last year she fought her way to the semi-finals only to be eliminated in a bruising battle with the brilliant Phoebe Watson, of England.

As this season dawned Miss Jacobs, rated the second best woman player in America, opened her campaign with renewed hopes that she might get the crown this time, though the general tennis sentiment still figured Mrs. Moody a sure winner in any match.

Following the Wightman cup matches in England, Miss Jacobs returned to America with the announcement that an attack of pleurisy which she had suffered had caused her physicians to advise her strongly against playing tennis for several months. So she announced her retirement from competitive tennis until 1931.

Now comes the sudden decision of Mrs. Moody to forego her plans for a seventh national title and instead remain at home in California with her husband and parents.

That makes the battle, beginning August 18 in Forest Hills, a free-for-all with at least half dozen entrants having fairly equal chances. Miss Betty Nuthall, the lone British player, seems the best of the lot, but she has been previously beaten by Miss Jacobs.

The way is open for Miss Jacobs. Over the surviving field of players she would be the favorite. Her big chance to win the national title and write her name into the list of illustrious ones of Molla Mallory, Mary K. Browne, Hazel Hotchkiss Wightman and Mrs. Moody is here. But—and here is the tragedy—this is the one tournament and the one year in which she must not play!

'Common Clay' Sets Record in Detroit

Detroit seems to have embraced Constance Bennett figuratively in her first big talking picture, "Common Clay," according to a telegram to Al Goodwin, manager of the Fox theater, here, received from William H. Raynor, managing director of the Fox, in that city. The telegram reads: "Common Clay" with Constance Bennett opened last Friday at the Fox theater, Detroit, to the biggest gross business in the history of any one production in this city, playing to over 70,000 paid admissions in four days. Production without question is the greatest emotional thrill to come to the screen since the innovation of talking pictures. Holding over here for second week's engagement. Positive boxoffice sensation.

WILLIAM H. RAYNOR,
"Managing Director."

"Common Clay" opens an engagement at the Fox today and not only has the beautiful and accomplished Constance Bennett in the leading female role, but also has Lew Ayres, the wisest figure of the German schoolboys, in "All Quiet on the Western Front," playing the leading role, as well as Beryl Mercer, the old lady in Gary Cooper's "Seven Days Leave," in the cast in an important part.

him before he enters a ring again. He wanted to see Pa before talking. Pa, who preceded him here by three days, has been in almost continual conferences with Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's manager; Jeff Dickson, the "Tex" Richard of Europe; and other promoters.

One thing is certain and that is that the young Georgian will not retire from the ring for a long, long time. "Why should I?" he asked. "I'm only 23. I'm healthy and I like to fight more than anything else in the world. I want the world's heavyweight championship. I wouldn't quit the game even if I had all the money in the world." Asked when he was returning to Atlanta he answered with a broad grin. "Say, I don't know when I'll get there and I can't wait to go."

W. L. was met at the pier by Pa and Ma Stribling, his young and comely wife, Jeff Dickson, and a large number of New York friends and sports enthusiasts. He is undecided as to his plans, but will probably remain here for about a week while Pa and Ma Stribling make a fortune now beginning to sit up and take notice of the home talent.

Strib-Schmeling Bout Assured.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Max Schmeling, of Germany, heavyweight champion of the world, will risk his title in a bout with W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Georgia, either in Berlin or the United States next June, according to a statement reached here today between Joe Jacobs and Pa Stribling, rival managers.

No contracts were signed, but Jacobs said he would give the German his word of honor to make the fight.

The bout will be promoted in Berlin by Jeff Dickson, the American promoter who has given the German his word of honor to make the fight. Jacobs said Thursday for Berlin to talk with Schmeling, but anticipated trouble in persuading his champion to sign.

The bout will be promoted in Berlin by Jeff Dickson, the American promoter who has given the German his word of honor to make the fight. Jacobs said Thursday for Berlin to talk with Schmeling, but anticipated trouble in persuading his champion to sign.

In the Dickson fails to meet Schmeling's demands, Nate Lewis, matchmaker of the Chicago stadium, stands ready to stage the bout in the United States.

Participating in the conference were New York fight experts who agreed that Young Stribling would be the best possible drawing card for Schmeling in a title fight in Europe or America and that the Georgian was the logical challenger.

Strib Is Signed For Boston Fight.

BOSTON, Aug. 15. (AP)—Eddie Mack, Boston boxing promoter, returned from New York today with a contract calling for W. L. (Young) Stribling's appearance against the winner of the Ernie Schaaf-Babe Hunt bout which will be staged here in Fenway park on September 2.

Mack, who closed the deal with "Pa" Stribling, said he wanted to show the Georgia heavyweight here during the first week in October, but feared that Stribling's injured hand would hold up the proposed bout until late in that month.

Sharkey-Campolo Bout Is Arranged.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—The signing of Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, and Victorio Campolo, of Argentina, for a 15-round bout at the Yankee stadium September 25 was announced late today by the Madison Square Garden Corporation.

The signing of Sharkey and Campolo came as a surprise to the boxing world, as the management of the Boston sailor had been considering a September bout with Primo Camera in Chicago. As a result Mike Malloy, Chicago promoter, will have to look elsewhere for an opponent for the Man-Mountain of Europe.

Jeff Dickson Signs Brown-Haut Fight.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15. (AP)—Jeff Dickson, Paris and London boxing promoter, announced today the signing of Jack Brown, generally recognized as the bantamweight champion, to box Eugene Hunt, French and European champion, in a 15-round bout at the Velodrome in Paris, October 4.

Brown will sail for Paris September 6.

Christner Bout Off, Report Says.

MACON, Ga., Aug. 15. (AP)—The Macon Telegraph tomorrow will say it has ascertained W. L. (Young) Stribling will not fight K. O. Christner in Macon Labor Day, nor will he engage in any fight for at least 60 days.

It also was learned that nothing definite toward a Stribling-Schmeling bout has been determined.

COTTON PRICES DROP

DURING PAST WEEK

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(P)—Diminishing nervousness over the distribution, combined with bearish speculations and unfavorable trade reports have been reflected by a further sharp decline in the cotton market during the past week. Prices for all months have made new low records for the life of the various contracts and with the new October deliveries selling below the 11 1/2-cent level during today's trading, the market was lower than the lowest price touched in the big covering and trade buying has been reported on the declines, but the market has lacked any aggressive support with buyers showing very little disposition to follow the market up on the liquidation of renewed pressure either from other sources, or long accounts or a little more hedge selling by the south. Bearish sentiment has been much in evidence with talk of still gradually increasing unfavorable crop cotton to market.

Scattering showers and light rains have been reported at scattering places in the central and western belts, but have contributed to bearish sentiment. No doubt, but placed and the apparent state of demand, as upon the general prospects of the crop. Further rains understandably would be severe if they are not before the month of July showing a decrease of 10 per cent in stocks on hand increased, were considered unfavorable for the cotton goods standpoint but fleeing cotton to market. The domestic consumption, the census bureau estimated at 378,853 bales against 378,853 in line with exports were about to strengthen the general position of the world's crop. Some

Employment, Wages Sag Lower in July

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—(UN)—A further decline in employment and wages among industrial workers was reported today by the labor department in its monthly bulletin, issued tonight.

Part of the unemployment is seasonal. On the other hand, some seasonal industries are showing a pick-up in employment and more is anticipated as fall business comes on, the survey indicated.

Statistics were based on returns from 35,540 establishments, which in July had 4,806,458 employees whose combined earnings in one week were $121,882,008. This was a decrease of 226 per cent in employment from June to July for all 13 of the major industrial groups reporting, and a decrease of 7.1 per cent in employees' earnings.

The other 12 reporting groups together showed an increase of 1 per cent in employment, but even in these groups wages have been cut, the decrease averaging 1.8 per cent.

Unemployment in some of these groups was due to the seasonal changes. The canning and preserving industry, for example, showed a jump of 52 per cent, and the bulletin said, "summer resort hotels increased employment 3.4 per cent." Gains from 0.2 per cent to 1.2 per cent were reported in telephone and telegraph companies, electric railway companies, power, light and water companies and in anthracite mining.

Cooler Weather Aids Retail Merchandising

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Retailers' tomorrow will say: "The trade and industrial situation, on the one hand reflecting the injection of better weather but on the other, the seasonal pronouncements of heavy damage to corn and some other crops seems rather spotty, with benefits to retail trade and crops of rain and lower temperatures outside of the south, partly offset by uncertainties as to just how much of the July and August damage has been repaired. Weather has unquestionably helped retail trade, this mainly in disposal of summer goods at 'sales' and in some areas a slight picking up of industry is noted over against which is noted the growth of uncertainty in buying and prices of iron and steel, which it may take September 1 or later to decide. Roughly stated, the cereal crop outlook is about 5 per cent off from a year ago, which in turn showed about the same reduction from 1925. Weekly bank clearings $8,870,342,000, a decrease of 28.6 per cent from a year ago.
